Progress on Bucket-Brigade Charge-Transfer Devices

BOONSTRA AND SANGSTER in 1972 described an early Charge-Transfer Device which in effect serves as an analog shift register, and can be used for storage or filtering applications. A 512-sample device with up to 3MHz operating frequency was shown.

L. Boonstra     F.L.J. Sangster
Philips Research Laboratories, Eindhoven, The Netherlands